About The Topic

Professional ethics are the principles that govern the behaviour of a person or group in a working environment. It creates a professional, mutually respectful atmosphere and improves communication, which helps any workplace to serve as a productive place. People feel better about their jobs when they feel respected, and that translates into better customer/patient relationships as well.

Objectives of Event

The objectives of the seminar are as below:

Professional ethics training aims to provide individuals with the knowledge, skills, and understanding necessary to navigate ethical dilemmas and make responsible decisions in the workplace. The objectives of this session are:

- Awareness of Ethical Principles: Introduce participants to their profession's fundamental ethical principles and values. This includes concepts such as honesty, integrity, fairness, respect, and accountability.
- Promoting Ethical Behavior: Foster a culture of ethics and integrity within the organization. Encourage participants to understand the importance of ethical conduct, set a positive example, and create an environment where ethical behavior is valued and supported.
- Professional Integrity and Responsibility: Reinforce the importance of personal integrity and individual responsibility in upholding professional ethics. Encourage participants to take ownership of their actions, act ethically in all professional interactions, and report any unethical behavior they observe.
